China Desk

China may be the new land of opportunities, but doing business in China or with China can be complicated and daunting. We have the experience, knowledge and expertise to help our clients understand and manage the risks and challenges of operating in China and doing business vis-à-vis Chinese entities.

Gornitzky's China desk is ideally positioned to support our clients' needs in doing business in China or vis-à-vis Chinese entities. Our unique China-focused expertise is based not only on our knowledge of China's legal system and business culture and on our vast professional network in China but also on our lawyers' hands-on experience working in or with China. Some of our lawyers have lived and worked in China for years, have acquired intimate knowledge with China's legal and business environment and hold advanced degrees from leading Chinese universities. This puts our China desk at a unique position to support our clients and help them deal with legal and business challenges in China and in working with China, mitigate risks and leverage opportunities.

We advise clients on various legal and strategic aspects of doing business in China or with Chinese entities, including transactions, commercial disputes and general legal support. We have also developed specific expertise in intellectual property in China, which is unique in Israel. Our knowledge of the culture and legal systems of both China and Israel also puts us in a unique position to support Chinese companies in their business endeavors in Israel.
