Real Estate & Construction

For years, Gornitzky & Co. has been guiding local and international clients in many of Israel's largest real-estate transactions. The firm represents some of Israel's top land development and construction companies and has lead complex, large-scale real-estate projects, such as, the construction of highways, tunnels, desalination plants, and others.

The real estate and construction team at Gornitzky & Co. specializes in complex real estate projects including zoning, investment, development, expropriations and the representation of landowner associations. Typical representations have also included acquisitions, disposals, lettings, general management, work, relocations, corporate support, property finance, security work and real estate litigation.

Gornitzky attorneys have extensive training in property law, related taxation issues, planning, zoning and finance related matters. This multidisciplinary approach ensures that Gornitzky's attorneys are able to provide their clients with a broad perspective on any real estate transaction in which they are involved.

Additionally, Gornitzky has highly reputable hotels, travel & leisure practice, in which we represent leading hotel chains, as well as their income producing properties.
