Gornitzky firm is a partner in the Genesis accelerator

News

This week the first track of the Genesis accelerator was launched, supported by our firm together with Google For Startups, KPMG and Fusion VC. The program is an acceleration program for startups and early-stage entrepreneurs. The program will be attended by mentors who are active investors from leading venture capital funds who will accompany the participating startups and will be part of an envelope of consultants, partner companies and connections in Israel and abroad. The program will take place in our firms from August to October. The partners Neta Shaked Stadler and Yotam Azari will accompany the program and will serve as mentors and advisors to the participants.
