Gornitzky represented Beryl Davis in an administrative appeal and a request for temporary injunctions filed by IGWT.

News

Gornitzky represented Beryl Davis, a company specializing in the manufacturing of unique clothing products, in an administrative appeal and a request for temporary injunctions filed by IGWT, a rival company that lost to Brill Davis in the police tender for the supply of clothing - a significant and prestigious tender for Beryl Davis by all accounts.

In the request, IGWT asked to prevent Beryl Davis from entering into an agreement with the police in connection with the tender.

Two days after the request was received by our firm, we proceeded to file a response to the request following which a hearing was held. The court dismissed IGWT's appeal.

Beryl Davis was represented by Partners Noam Ronen and Avner Finkelshtein, together with Associate Nimrod Saville.
